

WWF-Australia is Australia's leading national conservation organisation and is part of the global WWF network. WWF's vision is to manage Australia's major biodiversity assets to protect their ecological integrity and ensure their long term survival.

key supporters manager

- Strong relationship development skills
- High net wealth sales experience considered

This role develops and implements quality strategies to work with high value donors and trusts and foundations to establish and maintain relationships and grow revenue.

You have experience in one-on-one donor or sales relationships, able to 'make the ask' and negotiate successful outcomes. Your strategic skills enable you to manage budgets and identify prospects to achieve targets. A confident self starter, you can grasp the scope of WWF's work in order to tell the story, create tailored pitches and promote the need for financial support.

If you are looking for the chance to play a crucial role in conserving our environment, we want to hear from you.

To apply, send your application to ngo_140@ngorecruitment.com or for further information, call Heather Knights on 02 8243 0570.
