

senior cdm consultant

- Australia's Foremost CDM Consultancy
- Projects in Asia and South America

Our Client is recognised as the leading Clean Development Mechanism consultancy in the country. Small but growing, this is the time to join.

As a Senior CDM Project Manager, you will lead the CDM team towards achieving project deliverables. Writing and reviewing PDDs, formulation of methodologies, evaluating and recommending sustainable solutions for clients and carbon management. You will be involved in CDM projects from its early stage and manage the various steps required by the UNFCCC and manage a growing team of CDM project managers that will report directly to you. You will liaise with the local governments, international organisations and research institutions and provide support in the analysis of carbon market trends.

Your responsibilities will cover:

- Negotiations with clients
- PDD development
- Coordination of the CDM aspects between the client, DOE, DNA and CDM E.B.

You must have in-depth knowledge of the CDM mechanism and an Environmental Sciences or Engineer degree or equivalent. Fluency in an Asian language is a plus. The position is based in Sydney with regular travel to Asia.

If you would like to know more about this role please call Michael Green to discuss or submit your resume.
