

wind operations manager

- Significant Portfolio Growth
- Rare Opportunity in Australian Market
- Long Term Career Prospects

This major international wind developer is greatly increasing their capacity to take advantage of growth of renewable energy in Australia over the next four to five years. This is a ground floor opportunity.

The role has hands-on involvement in planning and undertaking services for the operation and maintenance of wind turbines.

Your role will include, but not be limited to:

- Dealing with all facets of operations and maintenance. Manage a team of technicians servicing wind farms to industry best practice standards
- Maximising financial benefits from the assets in a safe and sustainable manner
- Maintain, monitor and improve Occupational Health & Safety systems, procedures and documentation for operational sites
- Manage site operations (both staff and contractors), providing regular reports to management regarding operational performance
- Identify and manage risks associated with operations, staff performance and environmental concerns

You are an experienced wind operations professional who is just at home in a suit or a pair of overalls! This is a great opportunity, so if you would like to find out more then please call Michael Green to discuss or just submit your resume.
