

marketing coordinator

- Fundraise for cancer research
- Campaign management
- 3 months+

The GI Cancer Institute is a cancer research organisation whose aim is to conduct clinical trials to find more effective ways to treat people with Gastro-Intestinal cancers. The Gutsy Challenge has been developed by the Institute and is an innovative web based learning program for primary schools that helps kids take responsibility for their future through healthy eating.

This is a contract position initially being offered for three months with the possibility of extending to a 12 month renewable contract. To be considered you must be available for the initial period.

You will manage the activities of the marketing and fundraising program with a focus on the Gutsy Challenge campaign and direct mail appeals. Ideally you have experience in a similar position in a not for profit and must be able to demonstrate your ability to manage and execute fundraising and marketing campaigns.

If you would like to contribute to the fundraising efforts of the GI Cancer Institute please send your resume and covering letter to cv@ngorecruitment.com quoting # 30678 or contact Annie Barker on (02) 8243 0570 for further information.
