

NATIONAL BREAST CANCER FOUNDATION
finding the cure finding the cause

director of fundraising

- Play a key role in finding a cure for breast cancer
- Excellent remuneration package to attract the very best

The National Breast Cancer Foundation (NBCF) exists to promote and support breast cancer research in all its forms. Established in 1994, to date the Foundation has allocated over $74 million dollars to over 230 breast cancer research projects throughout Australia.

Reporting to the CEO, you will grow fundraising income significantly via the implementation of a sophisticated, well researched and integrated fundraising strategy. The majority of income will be sourced from individuals, community fundraising and corporates, with particular emphasis on the development of direct marketing acquisition, Cause Related Marketing, major gifts and bequests.

You have a successful track record in driving a similarly complex, broad ranging fundraising operation and have a deep understanding and appreciation of best practice across individual, corporate, community, bequest and high net worth giving. Your highly developed leadership and staff management skills, combined with your business acumen, intellect and strategic ability, will be key to your success.

If you want to ensure the continuation of NBCF's vital research then please call Sadie Kelly on 02 8243 0570 or send your resume to cv@ngorecruitment.com quoting #30521.
