

Tenants' Union
of New South Wales

executive officer

- Peak body for tenants
- Rare 'community legal sector' opportunity
- Social justice and human rights focus

The Tenants' Union of NSW (TU) represents the interests of all tenants and campaigns for policy and law reform. TU also operates as a community legal centre specialising in residential tenancies law, and as the main resource service for the state's Tenants Advice and Advocacy Services.

Accountable to the Board, you will have outstanding staff and financial stewardship skills. Liaison with tenancy networks and the community legal sector will be a key aspect of the role and the maintenance of excellent relationships with funding authorities will be essential.

You have a track record in community management, preferably within an advocacy or rights-based organisation, and a commitment to social justice. High level communication and diplomacy skills are essential to ensure that the positive relationships that now exist amongst staff, the Board, external funding bodies and the network of tenancy services continue into the future.

If you are passionate about managing a strong representative body then please call Olivia Ryan on 02 8243 0570 or send your resume to cv@ngorecruitment.com quoting reference #29337.
