

BUSH HERITAGE
AUSTRALIA

marketing coordinator

- Protect Australia's land, water and wildlife
- Dynamic major donor fundraising office
- Would suit Marketing Executive with a love for philanthropy

Bush Heritage is a national non profit organisation that protects high value conservation areas through management of land and water through direct acquisition or partnering with land owners.

Reporting into the campaign manager you will be responsible for the co-ordination of Bush Heritage's major gift fundraising campaign. You will be tasked with establishing, implementing and monitoring the procedures and systems to ensure effective and efficient campaign operations.

Although you won't be expected to fundraise you will have experience of working within a major gift fundraising department or with high value consumer account management.

Along with your exceptional project management skills you will also have a demonstrated eye for detail with regards to documentation, information recording and planning.

If Australia's biodiversity is important to you then please contact Chris Mackay on 03 9225 5100 or forward your resume to cv@ngorecruitment.com quoting job #29707
