

fundraising manager

- A child is born with Cystic Fibrosis every four days
- North Ryde leafy location
- Established program ready to grow

Cystic Fibrosis is a life threatening, recessive genetic condition that affects over 2000 Australian children. Cystic Fibrosis NSW is dedicated to achieving the best possible care and quality of life for young adults and children with CF and their carers. It does this by providing high quality health, welfare, education, advocacy and information services. Funds raised are also directed toward the Australian Cystic Fibrosis Research Trust.

In this role you will grow an established program consisting of an annual appeal, a significant events program, grant making, corporate donors, and community and merchandising programs. Importantly you will drive growth in the areas of regular giving, major donors and bequests.

You are a fundraising professional with high level negotiation skills that enables you to work effectively with a diverse group of stakeholders. You have experience in database and direct marketing with a focus on regular giving. You also have a track record in bequest and major gift solicitation with related relationship development skills.

If you would like to use your exceptional fundraising skills to advance the work of this highly credible charity then please contact Richard Green on (02) 8243 0570 or email your resume to cv@ngorecruitment.com quoting ref #29220

Recruitment

A division of Bradman Recruitment