

major gifts & capital campaign manager

- Experience in high net wealth sales also considered
- Work with leading activists and inspirational donors

Since the world renowned Franklin River campaign, The Wilderness Society has become Australia's most successful nature conservation organisation. Its campaigns have helped protect and restore precious areas such as Kakadu, Daintree, South West Tasmania, the forests of Eastern and Western Australia and Australia's Sub Antarctic Islands.

This new position will harness the support of philanthropists, businesses and private trusts and foundations here and overseas in the form of ongoing major gifts and a capital campaign.

You will have a track record in working with Board Directors and influential donors in raising significant gifts in a philanthropic environment or success in selling high value non-tangible services in a corporate setting.

If you are passionate about the conservation of threatened flora and fauna and would like to utilise your extensive major gift or senior sales experience, contact Richard Green on 02 8243 0570 or send your resume to ngo_7@ngorecruitment.com
